

Dear United Methodist Friends:

United Methodist Communications announces the airing of a Haiti-themed television ad, the availability of related resources, the creation of an online prayer wall, and suggestions for the Human Relations Day offering.

Television Ad

Responding to the earthquake in Haiti, The United Methodist Church will air specially produced television spots on CNN Headline News starting today and continuing through Monday, Jan. 18. Watch the clip here (<http://bit.ly/73q9HO>).

Worship and Advertising Resources

United Methodist Communications is providing a variety of earthquake-related advertising and worship resources for annual conferences and local churches to use to localize relief efforts. Complementing the television spots airing on CNN Headline News, the resources include downloadable versions of two different bulletin inserts, a bulletin cover, a PowerPoint presentation of worship slides and a worship version of the :15 television spot. In addition, customizable newspaper print ads are available for downloading, along with all the other resources here (<http://bit.ly/6d35Dh>), or under the "Additional Resources" section at <http://www.umc.org/haiti>. The section also links to worship resources from GBOD.

Online Prayer Wall

3

United Methodists everywhere are invited to share a prayer for those affected by the Haiti earthquake. Visit the Facebook group for 10thousanddoors.org (<http://bit.ly/6oJb5U>) to lift up your praise or concern on the wall.

Human Relations Day and Haiti Relief

Bishop Gregory V. Palmer encourages United Methodists not to let Haiti relief support and the annual Human Relations Day offering compete. Continue reading here: (<http://bit.ly/56Z8Je>)
